

5103

Engineering and Construction
Materials and Methods. Lab 3.

Prerequisite: graduate standing or consent of instructor. Analysis of engineered materials for construction and project operations. Examination and analysis of construction methods for civil engineering projects. Management of engineered materials development of site operations and analysis of construction methods and materials.